New Pages

---

- Annotated Data Bibliography Published 2/23/01. What possessed me to develop this one? Well, these are books devoted to data. I just had these scattered among the other books in Annotated Biostats, Stats and Epi bibliographies. I decided to consolidate them into one page for the data-driven.

EPI FORUMS

- - Epi Forums for Epidemiologists - a series of message boards you can post to get help, share info and report problems & solutions. Check it out!!! Grew out of an ongoing discussion of trying to share info on the Epi Info Listserv.
  - E-News Index 2000-2001. Yes, I thought it was time to document the content of the E-News that have gone out so far. This is so you will know what you're missing. It's never too late to subscribe. But, why wait? I've been so good about getting them out regularly during the middle of each month, or on the 15th to be exact :)
  - October - December, 2000 - Yes, the archiving continues!
  - MPH Alumni Surveys - Class Representation Statistics - Is your class being represented by survey results? Check out the stats. Current academic year statistics are not included
  - MPH Alumni Record On-line - Yes! I needed a noreaster to buckle down and get this done! Take a look-see and let me know what you think! It's "22 pages", but you should get around the document without any trouble.
  - MPH Alumni Record Site Map - In case you need one for this 22-page document!
  - PCH 594 - Special Project Seminar II - Guidelines for Writing Sections 4 & 5 \(The Report\)
  - PCH 594 - Special Project Seminar II - Guidelines for Statistical Reporting
  - Public Health Alumni Chapter's Spring, 2000 Newsletter \(Vol 4, No 1\)
  - Search Engines Index Freality.Com Metasearch Page
  - Statistical Reporting 101 The basics of good statistical reporting that I will be expecting to see as part of The Report
  - Thesis & Special Projects - DHHS's IRB Guidebook
  - Webmastering Resources on the Internet Published 2/23/01. Originally part of Web Development Resources Page, but there were so many I decided to devote a page for those who truly want to master the Web (Frankly speaking, I don't think anyone can, but why not have fun trying?? Besides, the threat of losing digits has not stopped anyone from climbing Everest just because it's there).
  - Web site Search Engines - Northernlight has been added, along with Google, along with other metasearch engines.

July - September, 2001

New Pages

- DCF's Talking to Children & Adolescents About National Traumatic Events Yes, I got their permission to share this great information sheet that provides guidance to adults on how to help our most vulnerable to cope with senseless tragedies.
- Healthcare Quality A spin-off from my Information Quality Web page. It looks like the trend to looking at the quality of healthcare is taking on a more information-based twist. I believe this is because of HIPAA, and the concern people have over the privacy of health information. Of course, this is sort of related, inaccurate health information would definitely have an impact on the healthcare you receive. Imagine a doctor having to make a diagnosis based on inaccurate information! I have re-organized both pages. Just added "The Provider's Guide to Quality & Culture (Cultural Competence)"
- PCH 593 - Section 3, Part 1) My guidelines for writing Section 3 of Special Project Proposal
- PCH 593 - Section 3, Part 2) My guidelines for writing Section 3 of Special Project Proposal
- SCSU Public Health Alumni Chapter MPH Accreditation Committee - Annual Membership (1994 - Present) Here is a listing of all the Public Health alumni who have served on the MPH Accreditation Committee I chair. Many thanks to these wonderful volunteers!
- Special Project & Thesis Advisees Here's a listing of all the graduate students I have advised since 1998. They all have their MPH degrees and I am very proud of all of them.
- Web site Polls Statistics Yes! I finally decided to create a page that summarizes all the findings from the ongoing polls on this Web site. Another "joyful" page for statheads. I cannot believe that there have been a total of 741 responses to date to the 6 polls I have on the site!!
- April - June, 2001 - Yes, the archiving continues!

Updated Pages

All statistics have been updated on the Site Maps and the Web Site Statistics Page. This is done monthly, usually at the beginning of each month.

October - December, 2001

New Pages

- DCF's Talking to Children & Adolescents About National Traumatic Events Yes, I got their permission to share this great information sheet that provides guidance to adults on how to help our most vulnerable to cope with senseless tragedies.
- Personality Page Learn everything there is to know about the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator - the most popular personality assessment tool around. Get to know yourself better. Participate in a poll and declare your 4-letter type!
- Statistical Procedures Sites Another spin-off of the Biostatistics/Statistics Sites page. A little more concentrated, heavier duty stuff. In response to the "What do you do poll." New sections for online statistics textbooks, reliability, item analysis, rater agreement and association have been added
- Statistical Software Sites This is a spin-off of the Biostatistics/Statistics Sites page. This new page re-organizes those links pertaining to statistical software programs, based on input from the poll. Check this new page for a new poll about what statistical program visitors use.
- Temperament Page Links to Keirse's 4 Temperament Model - are you an intuitive feeler, intuitive thinker, sensing perceiver or sensing judger? Take a poll and guess what my temperament is. Some fun personality tests.
- Visiting International Government & Nonprofit Institutions A spinoff page from the Web statistics page. Come check out how many governments and international nonprofit institutions have visited this site. Amazing.
- Visiting U.S. Government and Nonprofit Institutions A spinoff page from the Web statistics page. To date, 56 U.S. government institutions have visited this site. I'm just starting to document nonprofit institutions, just so it will be consistent with the non-US visitor listing I am working on.
- Visiting Public Schools A spinoff page from the Web statistics page. To date, 59 U.S. public schools and 5 foreign public schools have visited this site. It is so nice that children and teens come by!
- July - September, 2001 - Yes, the archiving continues!

January - March, 2002

New Pages

- 2002 E-News Index Page to start for 2002. I will be providing some info on how to cite Public Health E-News as a reference using APA format, and a listing of sources I use for the newsletter.
- Terms of Use & Privacy Policy - Even though this is a personal Web site, and I really don't have to have such documents, I thought it would be good practice to have a page that spells out simply what my thoughts are in terms of how this Web site should be used and a simple privacy policy to inform those who want to know what my stance is regarding privacy. These issues are already covered more extensively on my Quality Statement Page and the Healthy People 2010 Objective 11.4 Page for the truly interested. This page will be accessible from all the Web pages - once I get a chance to add the link on...
- Visitors - International Universities & Colleges U - Z. I had to split the original page because it got too long. Come see how many universities and colleges there are around the world!
- Ratings, Etc. I decided to revamp my Awards Page - which has some new awards. I moved all the rating icons to this page. Ratings are not really awards, per se, but they do reflect that the site has been reviewed to see if it meets a specific criteria set by a rating organization. For example, this Web site can be visited by your child and/or parent, which means this is a clean site.
- U.S. Colleges & Universities U - Z I had to split the Visiting U.S. Colleges & Universities because there are now over 500 colleges listed. Thanks for visiting.
- Web site Medical Search Engines This is a spin page off the very popular Web site Search Engines Page, which got too big. Now all the health-related Search Engines have a page of their own, with room to grow. 3/13 - just added - Med411.Com Medical Search Engine, E-medicine.Com Quick Reference, World Medical Library Search (E-Medicine), Medology Search, MedlinePlus Search

- Women's Health - Internet Resources - General, Breast Cancer, Cervical Cancer, Heart Disease, Life Cycles Yes!!!! A Web page devoted entirely to health issues that impact women today. Cool page, if I have to say so myself!!

Outdated Pages

These pages are noted in the Site Maps. Most of the pages I have taken off are old syllabi.

January - March 2003

New Pages

- January - June, 2003 Public Health E-News Table of Contents. Contents for January 15 and February 15 issues are up!
- Kudos Page Nice words go a long way - comments from visitors who like what this Web site has to offer..... You can send in something, too!
- October - December, 2002 What's New Page
- Web site Poll Stats Archives Yes! It had to happen. Now that I have over two years' worth of poll stats I thought it was time to start archiving. So, on this page you will find poll stats from 2001 and 2002. Because a couple of Internet polling companies went under, I had to restart most of my polls. I did manage to salvage the totals and percentages before I lost those services, which you will find here.
